

Hearing board supports punished fire officers

PLEASANTON — A six-member personnel board comprised of city employees yesterday unanimously reversed the action of the fire department command which denied merit pay increases to two fire department lieutenants.

After a two-hour executive session which climaxed a day and a half of public hearings, the board found that the actions by Captain Doug Cracraft, Chief Bert Cherry and Public Safety Director Walt McCloud violated long standing policies of the fire department concerning merit pay increases for lieutenants Dennis Laurence and Jerry Hinkston.

The personnel board's acting chairperson Mike Gomes, did not elaborate on how the policies had been violated by the fire department brass Gomes also announced that personnel evaluations submitted by the administrators as grounds for refusing the increases did not substantiate their actions.

Earlier in the day Firefighters Union attorney Alan Davis stated he might challenge the committee's executive session, believing it to be a violation of the Brown Act, a stand with which City Attorney Ken Scheidig disagreed. But after consulting with his clients, Davis agreed to waive their "rights" to public deliberations by the committee.

Pleasanton objects but vote is set

Voters will eventually be asked to decide whether a pipeline to carry the valley's effluent to the San Francisco Bay should be constructed at an estimated local cost of between $3.7 million.

Monday night, Livermore City Council decided it should not bypass voter approval by allowing a change in the original Livermore-Amador Valley Water Management Agency (LAWMA) Joint Powers Agreement (JPA) that calls for a pipeline costing not more than $1.5 million locally.

Tuesday night, Valley Community Services District (VCS) Directors agreed with Livermore that voters should decide, even though a defeat could mean imposition of a $6,000-a-day fine for continuing to pollute Newark area water supplies via effluent disposal from dumping it in the Alameda Creek.

Pleasanton apparently doesn't agree with that decision, according to Councilwoman Joyce LeClaire. Of three fellow council members she asked, all support building the pipeline without prior voter approval, asking the electorate only to approve the extra 4 million gallons per day (mgd) set aside for industrial users, she said yesterday.

According to terms of the JPA, only one member agency need request prior voter approval for the issue to be put on the ballot.

Any project that exceeded $1.5 million in cost or had a capacity greater than 13 mgd would require voter approval. Current proposals call for a 15.62 mgd pipeline, with the possible addition of up to 19.72 designed for industrial users only.

See 'Cautious' pg. 2

The union attorney contended during both days of the public hearings that denial of the pay increases was an attempt to punish the two lieutenants for being leaders in the Firefighter Union Local. Davis brought up a couple of points to try to support his contentions.

First, all nine fire department lieutenants got high marks from the previous evaluating officers, then captain, now lieutenant George Withers, but Cracraft gave them all relatively low marks. Second, the only lieutenant eligible to receive step increases - Laurence and Hinkston - didn't get them.

Testimony by Cracraft showed that the highest lieutenant that he rated scored around 46 or 48 points. Others were in the 40s but some were below the 40s and 30s. By comparison Withers ratings had the lieutenants clustered around the 80s on a scale of 100.

Cracraft's lowest score went to Lt. Bill Barry, whom Davis noted was president of the firefighters local last year. Barry got 19 points.

In Cracraft's grading of the 10 lieutenants, Laurence came in third and Hinkston fourth. Attorney Davis thought it was unusual that two men that ranked above the median for all lieutenants could be passed over for step pay increases.

As part of his documentation of an alleged management plot to "get" the two lieutenants, Davis called Richard Barrio to testify to what the crowd supposedly told him last winter about Laurence, Barrio, an Oakland fire department captain and Pleasanton resident, had dropped in on McCloud and they talked about the city's program of training police and fire personnel to perform certain aspects of each others' jobs.

It was then that McCloud allegedly said he was not worried about the loyalty of his worried administrators, but was about the loyalty of a couple of his lieutenants, specifically Laurence, said Barrio.

Barrio claimed McCloud said that "everyone says Laurence is a good man" but his loyalty to McCloud has to be proven.

McCloud had a different version of the incident. "I think I told him that Laurence was a hell of a fire fighter, but I had a personnel problem with him. I said that if he is as good as they say he is, there won't be any problem. I never questioned his loyalty."

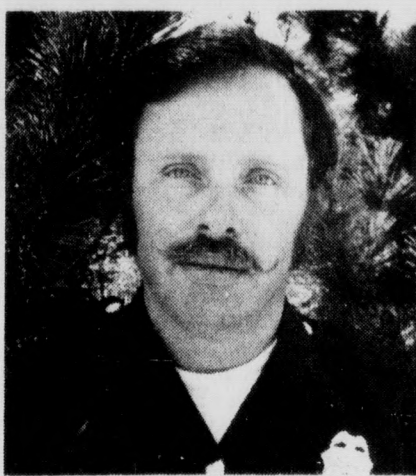

The so called personnel problem to which McCloud referred was the subject of sharp intensity on Davis' part. Although not much was told directly about the incident apparently Laurence had used harsh language against a superior in June, 1975.

What followed was a memo from McCloud which he posted on the fire department bulletin board without first consulting Laurence. Attorney Davis said that the memo was taken down after a libel suit was threatened against McCloud. It turned out that the information in the memo was erroneous, which McCloud could have learned if he had checked first with Laurence, said Davis.

Explaining why he posted the memo, McCloud said he was going to let Laurence have the whole department know that he wouldn't put up with the kind of behavior which Laurence allegedly exhibited to the superior officer.

"I suppose that that might be considered country justice," said McCloud. But it was better than dismissing Laurence and going through the long process of trying to get his job back.

Davis agreed that the Laurence incident and the behavior surrounding it might indeed cost someone his job in Oakland or Hayward, but it likely would have been McCloud not

Dennis Laurence

Jerry Hinkston

Laurence, who got the axe.

Cherry said the denial of a raise to Laurence was justified because, among other things, Laurence had a poor overall attitude. He had a "defiant attitude" and his behavior to a superior officer was negative, something which affects the morale of the whole department, said Cherry.

"Lieutenant Laurence completely disagreed with the kind of things we're doing. He thinks that other things are important," said Cherry.

The public hearing on the demotion of George Withers from fire captain to lieutenant originally scheduled for today has been postponed indefinitely. The unforeseen length of the appeal by the two lieutenants caused the personnel board to postpone the Withers hearing.

Arrests near in bizarre kidnap probe

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) — Investigators converged on the San Francisco Peninsula on Wednesday as authorities said they had pinpointed three suspects in the Chowchilla school children kidnaping case and arrest warrants were being prepared.

"We have people here that we are looking for and we are waiting for warrants for their arrest to arrive here for Alameda and Madera counties," San Mateo County Sheriff John R. McDonald said.

McDonald declined to reveal the names of the persons in the warrant, although he said investigators were coming here from Madera County, where the kidnaping occurred and from Alameda County, where the 26 children and their bus driver were buried alive in a Livermore rock quarry until they dug their way out to safety.

A highly placed source in Alameda County told The Associated Press that one young man named in the warrants was connected to the quarry and the other two were sons of a prominent San Francisco area physician.

The families of all three have residences on the San Francisco Peninsula, the source said, which is in San Mateo County jurisdiction. Redwood City is about 30 miles south of San Francisco.

Published reports on Wednesday said that "a drug and gun cult" involving members of wealthy families may have planned the precision abduction.

LIVERMORE, Calif. (AP) — A "gun and drug cult" involving wealthy members of San Francisco Bay area families may have engineered the precision abduction of 26 Chowchilla school children and their bus driver, published reports said Wednesday.

"The arrests of at least seven sons of wealthy San Francisco Peninsula families are imminent," the Sacramento Bee reported. A similar report was published in its sister newspaper, The Fresno Bee of the McClatchy Group.

Authorities told The Associated Press that they did have suspects but arrests were not imminent.

Both newspapers quoted sources as saying one suspect was indirectly linked to the California Rock and Gravel Co. quarry near Livermore in Alameda County, where the kidnap victims were entombed in a buried moving van for nearly 18 hours last week.

"We are looking very closely to an individual named Fred because the moving van was sold ... to him personally," said a source quoted by The Fresno Bee. "That information has been passed on to the district attorney to see if there is enough for a complaint."

The sources were quoted as saying it would have taken someone with ready access to the quarry to bury a moving van there "with impunity."

Lt. Gene Saper of the Alameda County sheriff's office said earlier that quarry owner Fred Woods III "and his boy are being investigated routinely."

Reached by telephone at California Rock and Gravel's San Francisco office, Woods said, "I'm numb." Woods, who earlier had confirmed he has a son named Frederick, said Wednesday, "I was told by the sheriff's office not to say whether I have one son or 10 sons."

On the southern end of the San Francisco Peninsula, San Mateo County Sheriff John McDonald said his office has been asked to join the investigation and to have a helicopter standing by.

"I don't know anything about a group of seven, six, or five people — a group of wealthy kids. It's not to say it's not true. I just don't know about it," Madera County Sheriff Ed Bates told reporters in Madera.

Six mapping fair response

Alameda County Fair directors have formed a committee to "consider courses of action" in the wake of drastic declines in revenues and attendance at the recent County Fair.

Lee Hall, secretary - manager of the Fair Association, would not comment on whether this could ultimately lead to legal action.

The Fair was hit hard by the tremors of the county employees strike and, initially, by contract differences with the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association (HBPA).

Pickets appeared at entrances to the Fair in Pleasanton and remained throughout the Fair's 15-day run.

Parimutuel clerks affiliated with a Service Employees International Union local walked out, apparently on the advice of a business agent.

Appointed to a committee to consider courses of action Tuesday night were Tom Kitayama, Richard McCarthy, George Jacopetti, William Gale, Joseph Schenone, and Joe Perez.

Attendance was down 48.8 per cent from 1975 and the number of paid admissions slumped from 321,689 to 157,896. Everett Nevin, who presented the operations report, said cash receipts from grounds admissions dropped $157,812 or 41.2 per cent. Parking income declined from $93,290 in 1975 to $38,470.

Last year's total income from grounds, grandstand reserved and box seats, racing programs and parking amounted to $667,116. The Fair Association calculates its loss in revenues as $403,072.

In 1975, commission and breakage plus income from parking, programs, admissions (grounds and grandstand) and reserved seats totaled over $1,950,000.

To show what effect horse racing has on the economy, Nevin listed figures for grandstand, parimutuel and personal contract payrolls in 1975, the total sum being $277,866. Adding this to the projected purse schedule ($701,176) and including "breeders" fees ($25,000), the total would have been $1,004,042.

Hall noted yesterday, though, that all figures in Nevin's report are subject to audit.

In other Fair-related reports, the informally scheduled dressup of animals, exhibits in the Hall of Commerce Building and the work of Dorothy Ross in the home economics area were all lauded by Hall.

Hall said livestock gross sales were the biggest in the Fair's history. He also praised the work of Peter Bailey, assistant manager of the Fair Association, and his publicity staff.

The former Washington fair manager also had some unkind words for the actions of Santa Rosa County Fair leaders. "Not only did they try to take away a couple of our racing dates but we helped negotiated a contract with HBPA for them."

In other business, the bid for roofing of four horse barns was awarded to Malotte and Peterson for $26,843 with work to start August 2; the Fair staff was directed to advise the City of Pleasanton that lease of the tennis courts could be renewed on the same basis as in the past; deferred a request by Greyhound Bus Lines for payment on tickets the company had sold for its race track specials; approved a refund to EBMUD but declined the requests of two other commercial exhibitors; received letters of appreciation from the 4-H and the Alameda Chamber of Commerce, and nominated Frank Castelucci to succeed Tom Kitayama as board president. George Bayless was nominated for the vice president slot.

The nominating committee also nominated John Pleich, an appointee of Supervisor Joseph Bort, to fill the resigned seat of Jack Maltester.

Quarry employees ired at kidnap allegations

California Rock and Gravel Co. employees are more than miffed at some "broad statements" made by police that workers feel "made us look like we were investigating the plot" behind the abduction of those 26 Chowchilla school children and their bus driver.

What's worse, they claim, is that Alameda County Deputy Sheriffs never did get around to questioning the employees.

Sheriff Tom Houchins made "rash statements" about some 25 Cal Rock employees when he inferred the kidnaping and entombment in an old gravel quarry was an inside job, they said.

"You don't mind being checked out, but if they'd have talked to somebody ... They didn't talk to us," said one disgruntled worker.

He and others, he said were questioned only by the FBI, and the questions centered on suspicious vehicles or strangers working or lurking about the quarry pits.

Houchins, they said "treated it as if the investigation was on someone inside the plant."

The three or four fellow workers he's talked to agree.

The sheriff has said since last Friday when the children and their driver were found in the buried moving van that there is strong suspicion that the kidnapers were or are employees of the gravel company.

In turn, the employees have felt the gray, often black cloud of suspicion sweeping over the plant and its employees, while they have had no chance to rebut the innuendo.

"He (Houchins) should be more careful in the future in his remarks about people until he gets names ... It was kind of trying for us out there, too. It makes us look foolish," added an employee.

Long way to teach cooking

PLEASANTON — The Richard Behiel family of Hillsdale Drive won't have much time to get to know their young guest from France, Jean Michel Serrant, but they do know Jean can whip up an exotic delicacy or two.

How about stuffed tomatoes with sardines and eggs? Serve with veal cutlets and potatoes au gratin. It's delicious — so they say!

Jean Michel came to Pleasanton by way of Los Angeles and Connecticut. The studious and well-mannered 15-year old comes from Villepinte, a community roughly the size of Pleasanton and about two miles from Paris.

He is visiting here under the auspices of Pacific Intercultural Exchange, which has placed many French students in homes throughout the Bay Area.

Yvonne Behiel learned of the need for a host family from Mrs. Glen Walls, her aunt, who lives in Walnut Creek. The Walls are hosting Sophie Desmoulin.

Valley families interested in hosting a foreign student are advised to contact Carol Weinschank, 574-1445, the bay area coordinator for P.I.E. who lives in Foster City.

Mrs. Behiel is a native of Watertown, N.Y., not far from the Canadian border and Mr. Behiel was born in Edmonton, Alberta.

Jean Michel will be in Pleasanton through July 30. While here, he is getting to know more about the United States and American family life.

A student at Jeanne Hachette School, a Catholic institution, Jean Michel intends to be a teacher of French language and history. For this he will eventually attend a "faculte," a three-year college level school somewhat equivalent to the junior college in the U.S.

He notes some obvious differences in the French and American societies. In France, most of the front yards of homes are closed off by fences — compared to the open, usually lawn areas found in U.S. residential sections.

Relationships are different, the young person in France generally having less independence whereas the American youngster, opines Jean, seems to come and go as he pleases.

Food preferences? Jean Michel mentions french fries and potatoes, horse meat ("Yes, it's good, chimes in Mrs. Behiel"), and crepes, the latter as a dessert or any style during carnival time.

Peanut butter and jello were unknown to Jean. But the report is he'll be taking some jello mix back to France!

Favorite entertainment or hobbies?

Jean Michel is an avid reader, mysteries, and is currently reading a James Bond epic. He also collects stamps, plays on the school football (soccer) team, and likes tennis and rowing.

He had never seen a baseball game until the Behiel family took him to see the Oakland A's and Baltimore crack a couple dozen baseballs around the Coliseum park. Jean's reaction is that baseball is better played than watched.

Among the television "biggies" in France (with French dubbed in, of course) are Mash, Mannix, Columbo, Bonanza and Gunsmoke. Can you imagine Peter Falk emoting in French?

A French equivalent of the American detective shows is "Arsene Lupin." On the 30th, Jean will leave Pleasanton to fly to Los Angeles for a visit to Disneyland — then home to Villepinte.

New Blackhawk threat

Lesh News Bureau

MARTINEZ — Threats of a county-wide initiative petition to prevent hillside development on Mt. Diablo appear in a citizens group appeal of Blackhawk's first phase.

Friends of Mt. Diablo, are appealing the Hidden Oaks subdivision or 206-home first phase of what will ultimately be a 4,200-acre development.

Linda Moody, the Diablo homeowner and attorney who has spearheaded Friends activities, could not be reached for an explanation of the threatened initiative.

Her appeal claims the County Planning Commission failed to make specific findings that the development's first phase conformed to the general plan.

"Even if such a determination has been or should be made, it is without foundation and should be overruled by the Board of Supervisors," she argued.

Mrs. Moody also threatened "picketing and leafleting" outside the offices of the Blackhawk developers.

She also threatened to place advertisements in local newspapers

"seeking to inform people of the unanswered legal questions surrounding the ultimate disposition of property on Mt. Diablo and its foothills.

Mrs. Moody called a defamation and unfair campaign practices lawsuit by the Blackhawk Co. against her and companion Salley Ewing, also of Diablo and Friends, "a clear violation of the rights of citizens of Contra Costa to be responded to and protected by their elected public officials."

"Said lawsuit is a transparent attempt to intimidate the people of Contra Costa County," she said.

Blackhawk's attorney Dan Van Voorhis said of the appeal and threat, "We do not completely understand the appeal or the reason it was filed at this time. We tend to suspect it has something to do with pending litigation."

Ewing and Moody are accused by Blackhawk's developers with making false statements concerning the location of the project relative to Mt. Diablo's slopes during a recent referendum campaign aimed at blocking the project's annexation to Central Sanitary and East Bay Municipal Utility Districts.

'Cautious optimism' over vote

By voting not to exceed the JPA estimate of $1.5 million, Livermore and VCSO insured that voters would decide the pipeline's fate.

LAVWMA member officials are worried that voters would turn down the ballot measure due to the added taxes it would bring. The threat of a $6,000 - a day fine, plus an estimated project cost yearly inflation of 18 per cent, make the prospect of initial project concept failure seem prohibitively expensive.

Members of both Livermore Council and VCSO have expressed cautious optimism that they can convince voters the plan is worthwhile and merits the increased costs. Monthly costs to residents of single-family residences are estimated from $2.74 to $3.45, depending upon the area and pipeline capacity finally agreed upon.

LAVWMA will hold its regular board meeting tonight at VCSO headquarters, 7051 Dublin Blvd. beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Terrorist bomb kills top British diplomat

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Terrorists exploded a land mine under the Jaguar limousine of the British ambassador to Ireland Wednesday morning, killing him and a woman secretary and seriously wounding Britain's top civil servant in Northern Ireland.

Ambassador Christopher Ewart-Biggs, 54, and Judith Cook, 27, were killed just after the car swept through the gates of the ambassador's residence in the Dublin suburb of Sandymount en route to an appointment with Irish Foreign Minister Garret Fitzgerald.

Brian Cubbon, 47, the man responsible for implementing direct British rule in the strife-torn province north of here, was injured as was the chauffeur, Brian O'Driscoll. Both men were in critical condition.

The bomb, believed detonated by remote control, blew the car into the air and made a crater in the road 10 feet deep. The car landed on its roof in the hole, trapping the four occupants, police said.

No one claimed responsibility, but Irish Justice Minister Patrick Cooney said the terrorists were believed to be "an extremist republican group." He announced a $36,000 reward for their capture.

Cooney did not specify the outlawed Irish Republican Army, which is fighting a guerrilla war to end British rule in Northern Ireland and unite it with the Irish Republic.

Police arrested two IRA leaders, David O'Connell and Joe O'Neill, after an IRA funeral later Wednesday, but that appeared connected to a scuffle during the funeral.

Irish Prime Minister Liam Cosgrave said his government viewed the killings "with shock and revulsion." Irish officials canceled their attendance at public functions and ordered flags lowered to half-staff on all public buildings.

A spokesman for Queen Elizabeth II, who is in Canada after opening the Montreal Olympics, said the British monarch was "shocked and distressed and has sent messages of condolence to the bereaved families and sympathetic messages to the injured."

British Prime Minister James Callaghan told the House of Commons in London: "These killers are no friends of anyone. They are the common enemy we must destroy or be destroyed by."

Ewart-Biggs, an Oxford graduate and novelist who wore a monocle because of a World War II wound at the Battle of El Alamein, came to his post here from Paris less than two weeks ago. The queen's spokesman recalled that she had presented his credentials on the eve of his departure for Dublin.

He is believed to be the first British official killed in the Irish Republic since the Irish war of independence in the early 1920s.

The mine, which police said must have contained hundreds of pounds of explosives, blew up as the car went over it at 8:32 a.m. The explosion reverberated through the hills ringing the city.

"The four people in the car were lying on top of each other," said Patrick Flood, an ambulance driver who sped to the scene. "We tried to open the doors but could not. Minutes after we arrived, one of our fire engines with cutting equipment came on the scene and managed to free Mr. O'Driscoll, the driver, and Miss Cook."

Livermore delays mini-parks plans

LIVERMORE — Lizzie Fountain and Mill Square, the two mini-parks under construction at the intersection of Livermore Avenue and First Street, will not be completed until mid-September, the superintendent of Parks and Trees acknowledged yesterday.

Superintendent Dan Freitas explained that the an electricians' strike has held up work on the two mini-parks that were to have been dedicated on July 4 as part of the town's bicentennial celebration.

The strike has delayed installation of the signal lights and sprinkler system, Freitas said.

He noted that the subcontractor, El Dorado Landscape, is nearly finished with the sprinkler system. Once complete, the Parks and Trees Department will begin to put in the plant material.

Each corner park will contain some lawn area and an arbor of redwoods, liquid amber, and tulip trees.

Lizzie Fountain, located on the southwest corner of the intersection, is virtually ready to go, Freitas reported. A mason has been at work, this week lining the fountain with tiles.

The fountain will be lighted by lights recessed into the cement bottom.

Freitas admitted that the intersection looks pretty sterile now. But he said that once the greenery is in and the fountain is filled with water the concrete areas will be balanced and appear less dominant.

Freitas noted that the original contract anticipated a late August completion.

Inventors slate Pleasanton meet

PLEASANTON — What kind of tax break can you get for promoting your own invention?

That's one of the questions that will be answered Tuesday evening when tax accountant Jack Marzluff, CPA, from the Danville firm of Jones and Marzluff, speaks with local inventors. The Inventors' Workshop International (IWI) local chapter will be meeting in the Vineyard Mobile Villa clubhouse, 3263 Vineyard Ave., Pleasanton.

At the 7 p.m. gathering, Marzluff will explain the tax breaks available to inventors, whether they are trying to sell a clever idea or a sophisticated new equipment design. His half-hour talk will be followed by a question and answer period.

The IWI meeting, chaired by inventor Sherman Jenkins, is open to the public, free. Information on how to protect new ideas and make money from inventions will be shared at the gathering.

Further information is available from Art Williams at 846-9554.

Amador comedy

Sneaking in a few hurried stitches to relax his business nerves is the company boss, Mr. Bigly (Chris Heinbaugh), who pursues his secret knitting in the comedy 'How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying' which opens tonight at the Amador High School Auditorium at 8:30 p.m. Admission for performances July 22, 23 and 24 is $2 for adults and $1.75 for students. In the starring role is Nick DiScala of Pleasanton.

Pleasanton Play Center now accepting signups

Registration is now open for Pleasanton Play Center, a parent cooperative pre-school which has been in Pleasanton for the past 25 years.

The parent participation nursery school not only provides a learning experience for both child and parent, but also helps keep school tuition at a minimum.

Classes meet on Tuesday and Thursday mornings for the three year olds and Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings for ages four to kindergarten.

The "junior" class has a minimum amount of structure mixed with safe and wholesome play with children of their own ages.

The "senior" children gain from a more structured program. They learn to increase their attention span, handle co-operative group play, listen to others, follow directions and develop self-control.

The play center, located at 339 Rose Avenue, Pleasanton, also provides a music teacher, a special teacher to help with the normal development of speech and monthly field trips.

Further information can be obtained by calling Mrs. Baker, the director, at 846-7545 or Jackie Martin, 462-3284.

Early Dublin residents will remember 'The Russian House,' a remnant of the original San Ramon Village complex built by Volk - McLain Development Company 16 years ago.

Its celebrity days long forgotten

By REINA WHITNEY

A "For Lease" sign hangs on the front door of the little white house in the middle of an almost deserted used-car lot, next to the post office, at the south end of Pleasanton.

Once it was the object of hundreds of curiosity seekers; now hardly noticed and virtually ignored.

It was originally built 16 years ago by the Volk - McLain Development Co. with the intention of drawing more interest to their, then young, San Ramon Village project in Dublin.

According to the tract developers, the little white house was supposedly a true representation of a single-family dwelling in the Soviet Union, built and owned only by families who were wealthy enough and lucky enough to own a single-family dwelling. It had been built as the result of a research project conducted by the firm's architects.

Approximately 24 feet by 24 feet square, it was originally divided into three rooms — a combination living, dining and kitchen and two bedrooms. There was even a small loft for extra sleepers.

The wiring and plumbing now visible from the outside indicate the addition of a bathroom and electricity, luxuries not present before it was elevated to the status of an "office."

Time was when school children would travel from all over the valley with their teachers to walk through its two doors to stare at the strange plaster, the cramped eating quarters, the pump at the sink, the wooden stove, the oil lanterns. It was an educational illustration for all of them to see the difference between the middle-income houses being built in the new development and what a "rich" family could afford in Russia.

It outlived its "usefulness" when all the houses, including the models, were sold in the new tract. Edgren and Sons bought the little house and moved it to its present location "where sturdy and staunch she stands."

Foresters bowl a strike against cancer July 25

Livermore's Clyde and Teresa Claggett, 801 Katrina St., will bring all their planning efforts to a climax with the July 25 "Bowl a Strike Against Cancer" tournament at Fiesta Lanes in Hayward.

The Independent Order of Foresters, of which Clyde is an officer, and the American Cancer Society are co-sponsors of "Bowl a Strike Against Cancer" month. All proceeds will go toward cancer research.

Cash prizes will be awarded to the first through tenth-place teams. Trophies and $100 will be awarded to the first-place team.

To date there are over 20 four-man teams registered for the tournament. Entry fees are $23 per team of $5.75 for individuals who will be assigned to a team. Entries close July 24 (Friday).

Tournament Rules of the ABC and WIBC will be used to govern the event which is set to begin at 10 a.m. All bowlers must have current ABC or WIBC cards, which may be purchased at Fiesta Lanes.

The Claggetts began organizing the tournament early in May when Fiesta Lanes, at 1375 W. Jackson St., Hayward, was selected as the site of the mixed fours handicap tournament.

"We've both had close relatives die from cancer," Teresa explains. "Raising money for cancer research is a worthwhile activity in our opinion — it's a very personal thing for both of us."

A formal presentation of the money raised for the American Cancer Society will be made the day of the tournament.

For more information contact the Forester office at Hayward, 538-0500, or Fiesta Lanes, 782-8550.

The Independent Order of Foresters is the nation's largest non-sectarian fraternal society with membership nearly two million strong dedicated to philanthropic activities.

tact the Senior Service Center at 443-1150.

'George M' promises to wow 'em in August

THE FOUR COHANS

The charming and ambitious George M. Cohan (Paul DeVore) propelled his talented family — Nellie, his mother (Shawn Rice), Jerry, his father (Gil Maines), and Josie, his sister (Sallyanne Erickson) — to fame on Broadway from the Vaudeville stage.

By JEAN MCKENNA

WITH A WEALTH OF UNABASHED FLAG-WAVING, toe-tapping and tonsil-wagging — accented by the star-spangled razzle-dazzle which was the trademark of "The Man Who Owned Broadway" — the musical production "George M" opens Aug. 13. Co-sponsors are the Pleasanton Playhouse and Chabot College.

Based on the life of the famous George M. Cohan, the musical IS Cohan in song and in spirit.

The multi-talented, hard-driving actor-director-writer-producer is responsible for every one of the songs which dominate the musical play. Songs which have worked their way into the collective American subconscious for decades, yet still retain the power to send chills up patriotic spines. "You're a Grand Old Flag," "Yankee Doodle Dandy," "Over There," "Mary" and "Harrigan." "Give My Regards to Broadway."

The incomparable George M. was so proud of being an American that for years he claimed the Fourth of July as his birthdate, although he was really born July 3, 1878. His love affair with Broadway was life-long and consuming — from the day he carried his family's vaudeville act to the Broadway stage, through the separation with his first wife caused by his career, until the bitter day he retired as a director in the face of the new unions.

His music says it all! The musical is a test of stamina for director, cast and orchestra. Director Glenn DuBose of Chabot College must keep the pace lively and preserve a sense of continuity through 20 changes of scene and variety acts. Paul DeVore as the pivotal character, George M., is onstage through the entire play which spans a career of half a century. The strains of a rousing chorus have hardly faded before the cast is again marching or tapping across the stage in the next stirring musical number.

It is great entertainment in the Vaudeville tradition. And it appears that audiences at the Alameda County Fairgrounds Amphitheater will not be disappointed in the well-chosen cast and crew.

Many of the cast members were attracted to the production by the fine reputation of Director Glenn DuBose, just returned from the Cabrillo College Festival at Santa Cruz, and currently directing "Babes in Arms" at the Showcase Theater in San Francisco. His credits with the Contra Costa Musical Theater (CCMT), New York summer stock, Diablo Light Opera Company and Chabot College are impressive.

Star of the show, Paul DeVore, is well-known for his memorable performance as the Master of Ceremonies in the CCMT's 1974 production of "Cabaret." That musical established his reputation as a song and dance man, although Paul admits he would like to try more dramatic roles, even Shakespeare.

Paul played leading roles in Diablo Valley College's "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," in Concord's Parkside Playhouse production of "The Fantastiks," and the Altarena Theater's "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown."

His most recent success was his portrayal in CCMT's "Show Boat" of the dance duet Schultz and Schultz with Linda Grantham.

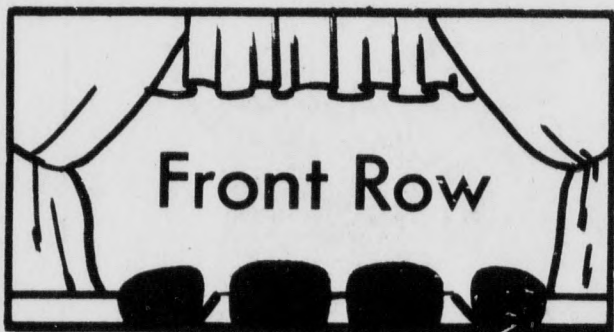

Paul's ambition, at age 28, is to work his way into directing film productions. He has his training from the community stage and Cal State Hayward. For the present, he makes a living as an employee of an import brokerage firm in San Francisco.

"I'll be singing and dancing more than I ever have in any other roles," Paul admits. He will have to convey a changeable, charming, ebullient George M., with an unswayable ambition but a soft touch and generous heart.

The rare personality and talent that could wrap a sophisticated Broadway audience around his little finger and bring them back for his performances year after year.

Members of the Cohan family fill out the cast of leading players, supported by male and female choruses and dancers.

Gil Maines of Pleasanton is Jerry Cohan, the father. Shawn Rice of Danville portrays the mother, Nellie Cohan. Fister, Josie Cohan is played by Sallyanne Erickson of Oakland, while George's two wives are Ethel (Debbie Borgogno of Hayward) and Agnes (Debbie Knox of Dublin).

admirable as the worldly, ardent young suitor. But the best supporting performances are given by Jim Coon, as the ex-husband on the loose and chasing a teenage sweetie, and Doris Goodman as Miss Lord's rambunctious mother.

Coon is a veteran of stage productions at Chabot and played the same role, "Billy Boylan," in the Cabrillo College production.

Miss Goodman is a community theater veteran and is listed as a founder of the Altarena Playhouse in Alameda.

Other main supporting roles are taken by Bill Burke, cast as the white-haired, wealthy Texan, pursuing Miss

inside the arts

Gil Maines has participated in every Pleasanton Playhouse production since its first, "The Roar of the Greasepaint." He carried leading roles in PPH's "Celebration," "Man of La Mancha" (as Don Quijote), and "Fiddler on the Roof" (as Lazar Wolfe the butcher).

"It's difficult to find more exciting music than the music in 'George M,'" declares Gil. An attorney with two children, he believes that the 1976 production promises to be the best yet for the Pleasanton Playhouse.

Gil, who is learning how to tap dance, says he can't think of a choreographer the cast would rather work with than Don Wilson of Pleasanton.

The rest of the players have nothing but high praise for Wilson, who occasionally appears in motion pictures and television series as a bit part actor, while earning a living with Bullock's of Walnut Creek. He recently was filmed in a sequence for "The Streets of San Francisco" and the movie, "Dirty Harry."

Actually, Don is a very talented tap dancer who trained under Louis DaPrun. He choreographed and danced in CCMT's 1972 production of "George M" and they still talk about his tap routine in that show. The father of five children, Don will direct and choreograph the upcoming CCMT production of "Hello Dolly" this fall — in his spare time.

"There is a lot of talent in this valley, that just needs developing," says Don who is proud of the accomplishments of the Pleasanton Playhouse community theater.

Shawn Rice who started as a dancer with CCMT in 1969 hopes soon to be a "triple threat" with her singing and acting abilities. A housewife with three children, Shawn is on the board of directors for CCMT and has played a variety of dancing roles for that company. Her credits include "Cabaret," "Guys and Dolls," "Brigadoon," "Show Boat" and the upcoming "Hello Dolly." She has also appeared with the Diablo Light Opera Company.

The two Debbies who play the wives of George

M. Cohan are both students at Chabot College, attracted to Pleasanton by the DuBose reputation. Debbie Borgogno received a drama scholarship upon graduation from Sunset High in Hayward where she carried lead roles in "Guys and Dolls," and "Oklahoma." Debbie Knox, who graduated from Dublin High School, played lead roles in the Amador High summer productions of "Finnian's Rainbow," and "My Fair Lady."

Sallyanne Erickson saw "George M" in San Francisco many years ago and decided she would like to someday play the role of Josie. She has participated in theater in the Walnut Creek area since she was 14 years old, taking lead roles in Diablo Light Opera Company's "1776," "Promises, Promises," "Applause," and "Little Mary Sunshine."

A kindergarten teacher in Concord who directs and produces children's theater there during the summer, Sallyanne has danced professionally for many years.

Production Manager Helens Starks is a Livermore instructor and experienced stage hand in Diablo Light Opera productions. Jim Wise, a professional lighting designer from San Francisco will enhance the production as will orchestral director, Mark Lipiani, and vocal director, Pat Warden — all veterans of the Walnut Creek stage.

Tickets to the five performance of "George M" at the Alameda County Fairgrounds Amphitheater are now on sale through the Pleasanton Recreation Department on Bernal Avenue, 846-3202. Cost is $3 for adults and $2 for senior citizens. August 19, Senior Citizens Night, tickets are $1 for the special guests.

An opening night gala, with a champagne reception following the performance, is set Aug. 13 at $5 per person.

The orchestra strikes up memorable songs at 8:30 p.m. to begin performances Aug. 13 and 14, 19-21.

A BROADWAY CONSTELLATION

Supporting players representing the Broadway elite are Rick Costello (a stage manager), Debbie Borgogno (George's first wife), Debbie Knox (George's second wife) and Larry Kaher (a theater agent).

Lord's teenage daughter "Trina" (Cynthia Pingree), and Roni Sanchez. Most of the cast have credits with either the Altarena Playhouse, Chabot College, Chanticleers, or Fremont Community Theatre.

Lighting and staging are extremely well done and, all considered, you can't go wrong. Especially for the $2 admission.

Miss Lord and entourage played to a nearly-filled auditorium Saturday so it might be wise to call the college for advance reservations. "40 Carats" plays this Friday and Saturday with curtain each night at 8.

MARQUEE — This is our weekend to visit the Fallon House Theatre in Columbia where we'll see "Once Upon A Mattress." The restored theatre is located in Columbia State Park, above the Sierra foothill community of Sonoma.

"Of Thee I Sing" continues Friday and Saturday at Civic Arts Repertory in Walnut Creek with Nick Thomas in the starring role. The Amador summer session play "How to Succeed in Business" opens tonight at the Amador Valley High auditorium.

'How to Succeed' is tonight's play

The Amador High School production of "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying" opens Thursday at the high school auditorium. Curtain time for shows July 23, 24 and 25 is 8:30 p.m.

In starring roles are Nick DiScala as Finch and Penny Williams as Rosemary, supported by Bryan Smith as Gatch, Lorna Trimmer as Miss Jones, and Mark Jonson as Jenkins.

Director of the musical comedy is Adele Denny, with assistance from Jerry Carlin. Choreography was designed by Barbara Purington. Leonard Cooper is chorus master, and Harry Sweet conducts the orchestra. Mark Lipiane has designed and constructed sets.

Tickets available at the door are $2 for adults and $1.75 for students.

Cal concert

A violin-piano concert to benefit the Cal State Hayward Affiliates, Inc., is set tonight at 8 p.m. at the university campus.

Both artists, Pianist Mary Lee Shephard and Violinist Helen de la Fuente, are graduate of the Juilliard School of Music in New York.

General admission is $3, $1.50 for students, with tickets available by calling 881-3724 or 886-0900. Proceeds will fund Cal State Affiliates scholarships.

For Thursday, July 22, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You'll be bored to tears today unless you work on several projects at the same time. It's one of those days when you can do everything well.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) A good day to go over the books and put your budget in order. You're a whiz with figures and angles, especially if money is involved.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Take care with communications today. You should write that letter you've put off, or phone that person whose line is usually busy.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You'll feel the pressure of events today, but you can cope if you slip off and sort things out before making a move.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) The company of friends, lots of them, brings you to full bloom today. The last thing you want to be is all by yourself.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You're capable of outstanding performance today. That's why others will shift their burdens to you. You'll take it all in stride.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Bright ideas will come to you thick and fast today. You could overlook their merit. That would be a shame, for they're all good!

Your lot will be improved this coming year, not in large chunks, but by bits and pieces. Don't overlook pennies — they grow into dollars.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Here is another hand from the ABTA quarterly. According to Betty Lind, her daughter sitting East opened with a psychic bid of one spade.

Betty bid two spades and West got into the act by trying four spades. For some reason or other North didn't double, but when Betty bid five hearts North raised her to six.

Betty ruffed the spade lead high and counted 11 easy tricks. She decided to try for the 12th by means of a trump coup.

At trick two Betty led a low trump to dummy's eight to guard against a 4-0 trump break which would spoil the potential dummy reversal. Once both opponents followed the rest was easy. She ruffed a second spade high, entered dummy with the king of clubs, ruffed a third spade high, entered dummy with the queen of diamonds, ruffed the last spade, led her last trump to overtake in dummy, discarded one club on dummy's last trump and was held to six when East kept a diamond stopper.

A nice hand but to forestall some of our scientific readers, we will mention that the hand can also be made by letting the defense hold one spade trick and developing a squeeze.

Ask the Jacobys

A Maine reader wants to know what a "Free" double means.

It is a term misapplied to a double of a game bid. The idea is that it doesn't cost you anything if your opponent makes his contract and this is entirely correct. Although it doesn't cost you as much as does an unsuccessful double of a part-score contract of two hearts or higher.

China tour for Dunbar

WALNUT CREEK — A ninth place finish in the United States Olympic Gymnastic Trials may not have landed Pleasanton's Diane Dunbar into the hectic Montreal gold rush, but, she learned this week, it will take her places.

The diminutive Foothill High School student, part of a gold medal-winning effort in the 1974 Pan American Games, will rejoin the national team for a goodwill trip to the People's Republic of China, August 15-September 2.

The same seven gymnasts on the current Olympic squad were scheduled to make the trip to the Chinese mainland (which includes two exhibitions and two competitions, but first-place qualifier Cathy Howard shunned the bamboo curtain junket for the trip to New Zealand and South Africa announced Tuesday.

The southern hemisphere excursion, which, combined with the China tour, makes for a clean sweep of the current Olympic trouble spots, will be made primarily by the U.S. second-line gymnasts.

The other girl ahead of Dunbar, eight-placer Tammi Manville, had already elected to visit France.

Diane, who will spend the weeks leading up to the Asian tour teaching during a clinic at the Diablo Gymnastics Club here, is once again nagged by injury.

"I sprained my right ankle before the Olympic training camp and my left during it," recalled Dunbar, who, by virtue of her fine showing at the trials in Los Angeles, went with the Montreal-bound team to Lake Geneva, New York.

"It's non-stop," she said resignedly.

Dunbar's aspirations toward the 1980 Olympics have dimmed of late.

"I doubt I'll try for 1980," she admitted yesterday. "I'll compete for two more years, then decide about going on."

As for the current games, Diane believes she would be making a respectable showing had she earned a spot on the Olympic squad.

"I might have been among the 36 who qualify for all-around," she said. "I know I would've been in shape for the meet."

Martin's single gives Cubs win

Dublin's Cubs edged the Pacific Coast Realty Red Sox 4-3 in Big League action Saturday.

Mark Martin belted a two-out, two-run single in the top of the seventh to win the game. John Downing, Rich Jensen took the defeat.

Downing also had key hits for the winners.

John Kent and Mike Hoff each had two hits for the Red Sox. Gary Rader was the winning pitcher and the game. John Downing, Rich Jensen took the defeat.

DV eliminated

Dublin Valley was eliminated from Big League tournament play when it fell to Centerville 15-4 Tuesday night at Fremont American field.

Mike Ortega was the winning pitcher and belted two home runs (one a grand slam) for Centerville.

The losers scored all their runs in the fifth inning. Todd Fraser belted a three-run homer to spark the inning rally. Jim Hitcher, one of three Dublin Valley pitchers, blasted two hits. The other Dublin Valley pitchers were John Harding and Tom Gerner. Harding had five strikeouts and Gerner fanned three. Hitcher allowed no walks.

The winners scored seven runs in the fifth inning to ice the victory.

Coach keys Pleasanton win

HOLLISTER — Pleasanton Senior Babe Ruth coach Jim "Raisin" McClure defied baseball's venerated "book" here yesterday evening to come up with his own best seller.

Pleasanton, with six left-handed batters in the starting lineup, beat Fremont, 4-2, to return to Veterans Memorial Park Saturday for the final of the Northern California Southern Division playoffs.

"We went with our best players," McClure said. "They just happened to be lefties."

Fremont, which just happened to send southpaw Fred Manzitto to the hill, might have had solace in the turn of events at the outset of the game, but by the fourth inning that feeling was gone.

Pleasanton scored a pair of runs in both the third and fourth innings before another lefty, Ron Provancha, put a lid on the valley team's offense.

In the third, Chris DePrater slammed a low liner through the box that eluded Fremont shortstop Mike Faenz for an error. One stolen base and two outs later, Bret Boldrini joined DePrater on the basepaths with a single and stolen base of his own.

Greg Bellinger scored them both, bounding a ground-rule double over the corner of the left field fence.

Manzitto ran out of control with one out in the fourth and walked both Sam Jorgensen and Shawn Mays. After a DePrater sacrifice bunt had moved them over Mike Connelly golfed a single over the second base bag to complete Pleasanton's scoring.

McClure lifted starter Rob Wicks after three strong innings and reliever Al Schaut after just two in a move towards conservation.

"If we are going to win Saturday (Pleasanton must sweep a doubleheader from unbeaten Hayward to advance to the finals in Auburn), we have to have two strong pitchers," he explained.

Guiseo leads Fairfield past North Stockton

A high-spirited Fairfield team defeated North Stockton 11-4 to force a second game for the Bobby Sox District 53 title last night in Pleasanton.

Jill McNanigh had one hit, a first inning RBI single and scored three runs. Jerry Beaver, Cherie Beaver, Wendy Deneter, Ginger Pittman, Susan Daacke, Niki Marquez and Joy Letterman also contributed one hit apiece to the winning attack. Deneter's hit was a two-run double.

Gina Guiseo pitched a fine game for Fairfield, striking out 10 batters and limiting North Stockton to only four hits. She walked only two batters.

Track meet

Amador High School will host an all-comers track meet Saturday, July 31.

The meet, which will last all day, is sponsored by the Pleasanton Recreation Department and is open to anyone six years of age or older.

Little Paula Ragenton had three hits and scored two runs for the losers. She also made a nifty running catch of a foul ball to end a fourth inning Fairfield rally. Melissa Wall added two more hits to the North Stockton attack while Carol Salgado and Diana Cahoon each had one hit.

North Stockton's biggest problem was the inability to convert hits into runs.

and time after time they had base runners either thrown out or left stranded on bases. Fairfield, however, capitalized on most every opportunity, which is the name of the game and came out winners.

Due to the delayed starting time, the Times regrets that the score of the second and deciding game wasn't possible to obtain.

Wolfe award winner

Vic Wolfe of Livermore, who reached the quarter-finals of the United States Public Links Golf Championships in Minnesota last weekend, is the winner of last week's Times Athlete of the Week award.

Due to an unfortunate oversight Wolfe's selection did not appear in Sunday's edition of the Times.

Wolfe won the first three matches in match play competition before losing to Gary Hitch of Ventura, 3-and-2.

Wolfe was in third place before his loss to Hitch. He started the competition on July 12 with a 70, shot a 74 the next day and started match play the following afternoon with a 74 to beat Tom Jacobson of Illinois.

He won two more matches the next day before losing to Hitch on Friday.

Ann Landers

Worker riled by attitudes

Dear Ann: I read with great interest and mounting blood pressure the letter from the person who employs a "dumbbell" to do her ironing, although she did say that she was a nice person. Wasn't that sweet of her?

I have worked as a domestic in a household for several years, and if asked what qualifications you need to be able to do this type of work, I would say—a degree in practically everything from psychology to nursing. Also you should have your own teeth, because you will be grinding them a lot.

You will be working for women and men who don't have one ounce of common sense, but are authorities on absolutely everything. They consider themselves BPs (Beautiful People). But the abbreviation really stands for Bitchy Phonies because that's what most of them are.

P.S. If you think this letter is rough, you should see the ones I tore up. — Another Dumbbell

Dear Friend: Willie Washington is a wonderful woman who has done housework for me for 20 years. I read her your letter and asked for a comment. Willie said, "That woman is not going to like anybody she works for because she is mad at the whole world, including herself."

Dear Ann Landers: Please reassure "Newcomer From the Old Country" that not all Americans are so crude and inquisitive about funerals as her friends and relatives. Questions asked: "Was it big?" "Did anyone faint?"

My husband and I agreed six years ago that our funerals would be simple, and even a little joyous.

When he died unexpectedly three months ago, I kept my word.

I asked the funeral director to bury my darling in the red golf suit he loved so much. Friends and relatives on both sides thought it was just lovely.

These days, when the funeral industry is under attack, my advice is to find a funeral director who will let you do exactly as you please. — A Recent Widow

Dear Widow: I second the motion. And may I add, most funeral directors are extremely cooperative. If you encounter one who is not, go elsewhere.

Dear Ann Landers: I am an 18-year-old girl who knows from reading your column that you believe nothing is so destructive to a woman's skin as the sun.

But I have a very white complexion and am embarrassed when I'm around girls who have gorgeous tans.

I've tried getting a little color by sunning just a little. It doesn't work. I get blotchy and look like a freak.

Is there anything I can do to get a tan so I won't feel ashamed and look so sickly? — Snow White

Dear Snow: Use sun-tan makeup. Skillfully applied, it looks like the real thing. When summer is over take some makeup lessons and learn how to enhance your fair complexion—which many women would give their eye teeth for.

Dear Ann Landers: As a person who must diet for the rest of my life, I'd like to comment on the hostess who was mad because most of her guests ate very little and passed up her dessert.

Dieters should explain the situation to the hostess and ask her to keep their problem in mind when she cooks. Or they should bring their own food. I do the latter and no one is ever offended. Pass it along, will you, Ann? — Former Fatty

Dear F.F.: Suggestion number two is O.K. if you tell the hostess in advance. But to expect her to prepare a separate meal is, in my opinion, inconsiderate.

Bay Area trend

'77 employment rate to grow

SAN FRANCISCO — In its latest Northern Coastal Business Summary, Security Pacific Bank traces the pattern of employment in the nine Bay Area counties and forecasts the future employment market through 1980.

Basing its projections on a recent report by the State Employment Development Department (EDD) and Security Pacific Bank employment data, Thomas Graves, assistant vice president and economist for Northern California said that statistics "suggest that total industry employment in the San Francisco-Oakland metropolitan area will continue to grow through the end of this decade."

"We see that the traditional bulwark of the economy in this area is changing, as demonstrated by changes in the relative importance of major industries in terms of the number of persons they employ," pointed out Graves.

During 1970-1975 the services sector recorded the most dramatic employment gain of all the major industry groups and accounted for more than 50 per cent of the total increase in employment, with the categories of medical services and public and private education showing the strongest improvement.

In the category of wholesale and retail trade, there also was an employment increase between 1970 and 1975, with the most noticeable gain registered in the retail trade category of eating and drinking places.

According to the EDD report, southern Alameda and San Mateo counties exhibited continued expansion in the wholesale trade industry because of their proximity to central cities' markets and important trucking and air freight centers.

Looking at the world of finance, Graves observed that the "continuing development of the San Francisco-Oakland area as a world financial center has had very positive implications for sustained employment growth in the categories of finance, insurance and real estate."

The level of total employment in the finance, insurance and real estate group increased 14.5 per cent, significant in view of the negative influences of the recession on this particular industry.

In recent years, the manufacturing sector in the Bay Area has suffered more than other categories of employment. As a result of the winding-down of the Vietnam war and the closing of Hunter's Point Naval Shipyard, that sector lost 12,600 jobs.
